

Notice from the GSP Club of Colorado regarding our 2016 Spring Field Trial

After much consideration, we regret to inform you that we are postponing the GSPCC 2016 spring field trial due to the projected severe weather that is anticipated to hit Denver and the eastern plains area this Friday, Saturday, & Sunday (April 15, 16, & 17). The club's main concern is for the safety and well-being of our participants and their animals.

We hope to reschedule the trial for the first weekend of May, specifically May 6, 7, & 8. We will post our final decision on the FT News website when it is determined. All prior entry fees will be refunded upon request.

We appreciate the patience and understanding of all those who originally intended to take part in our trial and thank them, for their interest. Again, our main concern is for the safety of all those involved.

Sincerely,

The GSPCC Field Trial Committee

Keith Bryant, David Cummings, Charles Kelley, Kevin Waide, Dave Wikman, & Ray Yenchick
